"Jewish Life In China

During the Past Thousand Years

Do Jews Have An Overlooked Genealogical Connection?"

Werner Frank, a founding member and newsletter editor of JGSCV, will present a unique historical look that encompasses China as a hospitable home to Jews, a haven for immigrants fleeing Nazi terror, and the Jewish contributions to Chinese society during four migrations:

Kaifeng-from Persia via the Silk Route (Song Dynasty);

Shanghai-from India and Iraq-the mid 19th century;

Harbin-the Russian Migration -end of 19th-early 20th century;

Shanghai-World War II -from Harbin, Austria, Germany, Poland

Meeting co-sponsored with Temple Adat Elohim

There is no charge to attend the meeting.
