"How To Begin Your Genealogy Research, Part II -Using the Internet"

JGSCV's April 9th meeting will help you with your genealogy research. Even if you did not attend Part I, you can attend and learn from Part II! Come prepared with your genealogy questions such as: Where or how can I find my ancestral shtetl? If I don't know the shtetl, what can I do to learn this? Do records exist for them and where do I look? What street did my uncle live on in Brooklyn? On what ship did Bubbie immigrate? How can I order my parents' marriage certificate?

Members of the JGSCV board: Jan Meisels Allen, Debra Kay Blatt and Warren Blatt will try to answer your questions by a "live" demonstration on what and where to research various Internet sites so you can continue working on your own! We will also discuss how city directories and WWI and WWII records can assist in your research.

Meeting co-sponsored with Temple Adat Elohim

There is no charge to attend the meeting.

Anyone may join JGSCV.
